Disappointing 2Q11 results

SSP announced its 2Q12 preliminary results on 18 July 2012 before market hours. Net income came in at SR12.4mn, below our estimate of SR20.7mn. Net income declined 42% YoY due to increased competition and higher material costs. We await the detailed results before updating our model.

- Gross profit for 2Q12 came in at SR22.9mn vs. the NCBC estimate of SR25.9mn (11.8% below our estimate) recording a YoY decline of 23.1%.
- Operating profit for 2Q12 came in at SR13.3mn vs. the NCBC estimate of SR16.9mn (21.1% below our estimate) recording a YoY decline of 37.1%.
- Net income for 2Q12 came in at SR12.4mn vs. the NCBC estimate of SR20.7mn (40.2% below our estimate) recording a YoY decline of 41.9% and a 32.4% QoQ decline.
- EPS for 2Q12 came in at SR0.24 vs. NCBC estimate of SR0.41 (40.2% below our estimate) recording a YoY decline of 41.9%.
- In summary, this is a very weak set of results from SSP when compared to the company's performance during 2Q11. Although the company's net sales increased by 21.9% YoY, the management attributed the YoY decline in earnings to the overall increased competition in the region as well as the 27.8% increase in the company's material costs YoY. This ultimately led to a decline in the company's margins.
- This is another quarter where the average cost increased beyond our expectation which we believe is the primary reason behind the deviation in earnings. Although the company's feedback suggests that the average selling price increased, we believe that the average cost increased at a faster pace which led to the overall annual decline in earnings and the deviation in numbers from our estimates. The company has not provided specific details on the higher costs.
- We are currently Overweight with a PT SR29.3 per share and await full details before updating our model.
