4.1 Valuation Approaches

Principal valuation approaches and Residual Method
Market Approach	"The market approach provides an indication of value by comparing the asset with identical or comparable (that is similar) assets for which price information is available. The market approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the subject asset has recently been sold in a transaction appropriate for consideration under the basis of value, (b) the subject asset or substantially similar assets are actively publicly traded, and/or (c) there are frequent and/or recent observable transactions in substantially similar assets."
Income Approach	"The income approach provides an indication of value by converting future cash flow to a single current value. Under the income approach, the value of an asset is determined by reference to the value of income, cash flow or cost savings generated by the asset. The income approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the income-producing ability of the asset is the critical element affecting value from a participant perspective, and/or (b) reasonable projections of the amount and timing of future income are available for the subject asset, but there are few, if any, relevant market comparables."
Cost Approach	Replacement Cost Method is categorized under Cost Approach in the International Valuation Standards 2022 and is defined as "replacement cost is the cost that is relevant to determining the price that a participant would pay as it is based on replicating the utility of the asset, not the exact physical properties of the asset".
Residual Method	"The residual method is so called because it indicates the residual amount after deducting all known or anticipated costs required to complete the development from the anticipated value of the project when completed after consideration of the risks associated with completion of the project. This is known as the residual value."

5.3 | Assumptions and Limiting Conditions

This appraisal is subject to the following assumptions and limiting conditions :

This appraisal is to be used only for the purpose stated herein. While distribution of this appraisal in its entirety is at the discretion of the addressee, individual sections shall not be distributed; this report is intended to be used in whole and not in part.

No part of this appraisal, its value estimates, or the identity of the firm or the appraiser may be communicated to the public through advertising, public relations, media sales, or other media.

All files, work papers and documents developed in connection with this assignment are the property of the appraiser, ESNAD. Information, estimates and opinions are verified where possible, but cannot be guaranteed. Plans and sketches provided are intended to assist the addressee in visualizing the property; no other use of these plans is intended. The work file prepared is an electronic work file and incorporates by reference all pertinent electronic data and analysis files retained by the appraiser.

No hidden or unapparent conditions of the property, subsoil or structure, which would make the property more or less valuable, were discovered by the appraiser or made known to the appraiser. No responsibility is assumed for such conditions or engineering necessary to discover them. Unless otherwise stated, this appraisal assumes there is no existence of hazardous materials or conditions, in any form, on or near the subject property. The appraiser is not qualified to detect hazardous or toxic materials. Such determination would require investigation by a qualified environmental engineer or other expert, and is beyond the scope of this assignment.

The value estimate presented is based upon the assumption that the subject is free and clear of contamination or toxic materials of any kind either upon, or impacting, the subject property. No responsibility is assumed for any environmental conditions, or for any expertise or engineering knowledge required to discover such conditions.

Good title, free of liens, encumbrances and special assessments is assumed. No responsibility is assumed for matters of a legal nature. The subject is assumed to be following all zoning and legal encumbrances.

The valuation report is based on the data available at the time the assignment is completed. Reasonable amendments or modifications to the valuation based on new information made available after the review was completed will be made, as soon as reasonably possible, for an additional fee.

All maps, plans, property specifications and data relied upon by the appraiser and presented herein are assumed to be correct. No survey of the subject properties was made by this appraiser. Inspection of visual components of the subject was made, which should not be utilized as, or in lieu of, an engineering inspection, or an environmental inspection. The valuation report assignment was not based on a requested minimum valuation, a specific review, or the approval of a loan.

Any compensation is not contingent upon any action resulting from the analysis, opinions, or conclusions presented, or the use of the valuation report.

To the best of our knowledge and belief, the statements of fact contained in this appraiser report are true and correct. Furthermore, no known important or materially relevant facts have been withheld.

The valuation report analysis, opinions, and conclusions are limited only by the reported assumptions and limiting conditions and are Esnad's unbiased professional analysis, opinions, and conclusions.

The valuation report is predicated on the extraordinary assumption that the subject can be exposed for sale commensurate with the definition of market value contained herein. If found to be false, the opined value may or may not be impacted.

For the purpose of this valuation, ownership is assumed freehold. We were not provided with municipality constriction permit due to unavailability of the documents with the client the time the valuation is conducted. Should any document be found contrary to this assumption, opinion of value is impacted accordingly, and will require further analysis.

5.4 | Valuation Standards

5.4.1 Valuation Standards

- All work is carried out in accordance with the Saudi Authority for Accredited Valuers (Taqeem) and the International Valuation Standards ("IVS") published by the International Valuation Standards Council ("IVSC"), by valuers who conform to the requirements thereof. Our valuations may be subject to monitoring by these entities. The valuations are undertaken by appropriately qualified Taqeem valuers.

5.4.2 Valuation Basis

- Our reports state the basis of the valuation and, unless otherwise noted, the basis of valuation is as defined in the "the Red Book". The full definition of the basis, which we have adopted, is either set out in our report or appended to these General Principles.

5.4.3 Assumptions and Special Assumptions

- Where we make an 'assumption' or 'special assumption' in arriving at our valuations, we define these terms in accordance with the "IVS" as follows:
- These types of assumptions generally fall into one of two categories:
- (a) assumed facts that are consistent with, or could be consistent with, those existing at the date of valuation ("Assumption"), and
- (b) assumed facts that differ from those existing at the date of valuation ("Special Assumption").
- All assumptions and special assumptions must be reasonable under the circumstances, be supported by evidence, and be relevant having regard to the purpose for which the valuation is required.
- We will not take steps to verify any assumptions.

5.4.4 Disposal Costs Taxation and Other Liabilities

- No allowances are made for any expenses of realization, or for taxation, which might arise in the event of a disposal. All property is considered as if free and clear of all mortgages or other charges, which may be secured thereon. However, we consider purchaser's costs in investment valuations in accordance with market conventions.
- No allowance is made for the possible impact of potential legislation which is under consideration. Valuations are prepared and expressed exclusive of VAT payments, unless otherwise stated.

5.4.5 Sources of Information

Where we have been provided with documentation, we recommend that reliance should not be placed on our interpretation without verification by your lawyers.
- We have assumed that all information provided by the addressee, or its agents, is correct, up to date and can be relied upon.

4.1 Valuation Approaches

Principal valuation approaches and Residual Method
Market Approach	"The market approach provides an indication of value by comparing the asset with identical or comparable (that is similar) assets for which price information is available. The market approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the subject asset has recently been sold in a transaction appropriate for consideration under the basis of value, (b) the subject asset or substantially similar assets are actively publicly traded, and/or (c) there are frequent and/or recent observable transactions in substantially similar assets."
Income Approach	"The income approach provides an indication of value by converting future cash flow to a single current value. Under the income approach, the value of an asset is determined by reference to the value of income, cash flow or cost savings generated by the asset. The income approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the income-producing ability of the asset is the critical element affecting value from a participant perspective, and/or (b) reasonable projections of the amount and timing of future income are available for the subject asset, but there are few, if any, relevant market comparables."
Cost Approach	Replacement Cost Method is categorized under Cost Approach in the International Valuation Standards 2022 and is defined as "replacement cost is the cost that is relevant to determining the price that a participant would pay as it is based on replicating the utility of the asset, not the exact physical properties of the asset".
Residual Method	"The residual method is so called because it indicates the residual amount after deducting all known or anticipated costs required to complete the development from the anticipated value of the project when completed after consideration of the risks associated with completion of the project. This is known as the residual value."

The appraiser is not qualified to detect hazardous or toxic materials. Such determination would require investigation by a qualified environmental engineer or other expert, and is beyond the scope of this assignment.

The value estimate presented is based upon the assumption that the subject is free and clear of contamination or toxic materials of any kind either upon, or impacting, the subject property. 4.1 Valuation Approaches

Principal valuation approaches and Residual Method
Market Approach	"The market approach provides an indication of value by comparing the asset with identical or comparable (that is similar) assets for which price information is available. The market approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the subject asset has recently been sold in a transaction appropriate for consideration under the basis of value, (b) the subject asset or substantially similar assets are actively publicly traded, and/or (c) there are frequent and/or recent observable transactions in substantially similar assets."
Income Approach	"The income approach provides an indication of value by converting future cash flow to a single current value. Under the income approach, the value of an asset is determined by reference to the value of income, cash flow or cost savings generated by the asset. The income approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the income-producing ability of the asset is the critical element affecting value from a participant perspective, and/or (b) reasonable projections of the amount and timing of future income are available for the subject asset, but there are few, if any, relevant market comparables."
Cost Approach	Replacement Cost Method is categorized under Cost Approach in the International Valuation Standards 2022 and is defined as "replacement cost is the cost that is relevant to determining the price that a participant would pay as it is based on replicating the utility of the asset, not the exact physical properties of the asset".
Residual Method	"The residual method is so called because it indicates the residual amount after deducting all known or anticipated costs required to complete the development from the anticipated value of the project when completed after consideration of the risks associated with completion of the project. This is known as the residual value."

Market Approach	"The market approach provides an indication of value by comparing the asset with identical or comparable (that is similar) assets for which price information is available. The market approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the subject asset has recently been sold in a transaction appropriate for consideration under the basis of value, (b) the subject asset or substantially similar assets are actively publicly traded, and/or (c) there are frequent and/or recent observable transactions in substantially similar assets."
Income Approach	"The income approach provides an indication of value by converting future cash flow to a single current value. Under the income approach, the value of an asset is determined by reference to the value of income, cash flow or cost savings generated by the asset. The income approach should be applied and afforded significant weight under the following circumstances: (a) the income-producing ability of the asset is the critical element affecting value from a participant perspective, and/or (b) reasonable projections of the amount and timing of future income are available for the subject asset, but there are few, if any, relevant market comparables."
Cost Approach	Replacement Cost Method is categorized under Cost Approach in the International Valuation Standards 2022 and is defined as "replacement cost is the cost that is relevant to determining the price that a participant would pay as it is based on replicating the utility of the asset, not the exact physical properties of the asset".
Residual Method	"The residual method is so called because it indicates the residual amount after deducting all known or anticipated costs required to complete the development from the anticipated value of the project when completed after consideration of the risks associated with completion of the project. This is known as the residual value."

This appraisal is to be used only for the purpose stated herein. While distribution of this appraisal in its entirety is at the discretion of the addressee, individual sections shall not be distributed; this report is intended to be used in whole and not in part.

No part of this appraisal, its value estimates, or the identity of the firm or the appraiser may be communicated to the public through advertising, public relations, media sales, or other media.

All files, work papers and documents developed in connection with this assignment are the property of the appraiser, ESNAD. No responsibility is assumed for such conditions or engineering necessary to discover them. Unless otherwise stated, this appraisal assumes there is no existence of hazardous materials or conditions, in any form, on or near the subject property. The appraiser is not qualified to detect hazardous or toxic materials. Such determination would require investigation by a qualified environmental engineer or other expert, and is beyond the scope of this assignment.

The value estimate presented is based upon the assumption that the subject is free and clear of contamination or toxic materials of any kind either upon, or impacting, the subject property.
