Risks that the Company may face

-1 Epidemiological Risks:

The outbreak of communicable diseases or any public health risk has a material negative impact on the Company's business. A new strain of coronavirus disease (Covid19-) was discovered in Wuhan, Hubei Province, China, in December 2019. This disease has spread in most countries of the world, which led many countries, including KSA, to take multiple measures to limit the spread of the Corona virus, which included imposing temporary restrictions such as banning travel, lockdown, preventing movement between cities within the Kingdom and preventing activities which does not achieve social distancing and oblige people coming from other countries to quarantine for a specified period of time. Accordingly; and as a result, the demand for short-term renting services was affected, as the fleet occupancy rate decreased, and this percentage may decrease further in the future due to the decrease in demand for short-term renting services.

In the event of the outbreak of the virus and the continuation of the restrictions imposed to limit its spread in addition to the reduced demand for short-term rental services, the Company's ability to sell its used vehicles may be affected due to the pandemic, or it may be forced to sell them at prices lower than its fair price in the market, which leads to a decrease in the expected revenues from selling used vehicles. Restrictions were also imposed to limit the movement of the Company's employees, which resulted in the temporary closure of the Company's car rental branches and its maintenance centers, which led to a decrease in the number of rented cars.

The Company's supply chain has also been affected by the impact of the coronavirus on car dealerships in the Kingdom and on foreign manufacturers of fleet vehicles and spare parts.

There are also risks associated with the Company's employees being infected, which may lead to restrictions on their movements and work, and thus affect the Company's daily operations. There are also risks related to the collection of debts owed from its customers due to the pandemic, or the request of long-term rental customers in particular, to reduce fees during the pandemic period due to their not taking full advantage of the rented vehicles, as well as the Company's request to reduce the rental value that it pays to the landlords and property owners rented by the Company or to renegotiate with them to terminate those contracts due to the impact of demand during the pandemic period.

The extent of the impact of the Corona virus on the Company's business depends on the development of current events and new information that may emerge regarding the second wave of the virus and the necessary measures to contain or remedy its impact, including the occurrence of regulatory changes or government fees that the Company may have to pay. In the event that the virus outbreak increases and the restrictions imposed to limit its spread continue, this will have a material negative impact on the Company's business, financial position, results of operations and future growth.

Risks associated with Structural Changes in the Transport Sector

The transportation sector in general is in continuous development and is subject to fundamental structural changes. Public transport projects such as Riyadh train and HHR, and companies that provide new transport service models, including vehicle routing services through electronic applications, such as "Uber" and "Careem" may affect the demand for short-term rental cars and may lead to a change in preferences and customer uses. Some of these companies may have the ability to provide large capital, innovative technologies or launch new services at a relatively low cost. Consequently, the company faces the risk of increased competition and loss of its customers if transport service providers can improve transport efficiency, change customer driving patterns or provide their services at more competitive prices advantage, more effective use of mobile platforms, or intensive marketing campaigns.

Accordingly, the company's ability to continuously improve its current operations and offerings in response to structural changes in the transportation sector in general as well as technological changes is fundamental to maintaining its competitive position and customer confidence and satisfaction. On the other hand, the absence of a clear and comprehensive approach to dealing with such changes may lead to a loss of competitive advantage and thus negatively affect the company's profitability, market share and ability to grow, which would negatively and fundamentally affect the company's business, financial position, results of operations and future prospects.

Risks related to the Company's ability to sell vehicles at the end of their operational life

The Company's vehicle fleet is not subject to any repurchase commitment by car agents or manufacturers, and therefore the sale of the Company's vehicles at the end of its operating cycle (which ranges between two to five years) is subject to the conditions of the used vehicle market and the usually lack of clarity in terms of prices. The selling price of the vehicles may also be less than the pre-estimated residual value.

Furthermore, the Company's ability to sell its vehicles in the used vehicle market may become severely limited due to a number of factors including the economic environment, changing vehicle models, regulatory requirements (for example, changing laws and regulations governing the sale of cars or vehicle taxes), inventory levels, new car prices, fuel costs and tariffs. Low prices of used vehicles or lack of liquidity in the used vehicle market may limit the Company's ability to resell its cars without incurring financial losses, which will negatively affect the Company's business, financial position, results of operations and future prospects.

Credit Risk associated with the Collection of Outstanding Debts from the Company's Customers

The Company may encounter difficulties to collect the amounts due effectively. If the Company's debtors face difficulties in their operations and financial conditions, this will lead to their failure to pay their debts due to the Company, and may also lead to the insolvency of these debtors or their declaration of bankruptcy. Any default in the payment of these debts or the bankruptcy or insolvency of the Company's clients, especially its main clients, will have a negative and material impact on the Company's business, financial position, results of operations and future prospects.

Finance-related-Risks

In financing its business, the Company relies on financing facilities obtained from several commercial banks.

In the event of any breach of the Company's financing agreements, the creditors may decide to terminate the lending obligations and declare that all existing loans, in addition to the accrued and unpaid commissions and any fees and other obligations, have become due and payable. If the creditors decide to speed up the payment of the indebtedness owed to them, the Company may not have enough assets to pay that indebtedness, which may push the Company towards declaring bankruptcy or liquidation.

In expanding its business, the Company relies on several factors, the most important of which is its ability to secure funding sources through internal and external cash resources. In the past, the Company has benefited from loans granted to it on favorable terms by Saudi banks for the purpose of opening branches and purchasing new vehicles to expand the size of its fleet. In the event that these loans are not available or continue or are not granted on the same terms by the banks, or if the Company bears a higher cost of financing or is unable to secure sufficient alternative sources of funding in a timely manner and on favorable terms, the Company may not be able to expand its business, which will have a negative and material impact on its future strategy, business, results of operations, financial position and future prospects.

Risks associated with relying on Senior Management and Key Personnel

The company's success depends on the continuous performance and service of its senior management and other key personnel due to their extensive experience in the sector and their contributions to the development of its operations. The company in particular relies on some key personnel who have extensive experience in the short- and long-term car rental sectors and who have made significant contributions to the development of its operations.

The company may not be able to retain its key employees who have the necessary technical skills and knowledge. The loss of any of the senior management or key personnel of the company would hinder or delay the implementation and achievement of its strategic objectives, and divert management's attention to the search for a qualified replacement. All this negatively affects the company's ability to run its business effectively and efficiently in addition to the resignation of any member of the senior management or key personnel of the work security at any time. If the company is unable to recruit and retain key executives and employees with high levels of skills in the appropriate fields, this will have a negative impact on its business, financial condition, results of operations and future prospects.

7- Risks associated with potential tax and zakat entitlements

- During the year ending on December 31, 2021, the management received correspondence from the Authority regarding the ownership of some shares by Development Opportunities Trading Company, one of the Company's former shareholders, stating that there are some potential taxes on the Company. The Authority considers, based on certain assumptions, that the Company is partially subject to income tax. The Authority has assumed that the above-mentioned previous shareholder is wholly owned directly or indirectly by owners who are not nationals of Gulf Cooperation Council countries. Therefore, the total amount of income tax exposure as determined by the Authority is SAR 29.76 million. The exposure to withholding tax as defined by the Authority was SAR 3.94 million, covering the years 2013 to 2018, excluding delay and other related fines. As at the date of approval by the Board of Directors of these financial statements, no official assessment was received from the Authority. An additional amount is likely to be exposed for the year ending on December 31, 2019 and 2020, and for the period from January 1, 2021, until the date of the previous shareholder's sale of his shares if the Authority imposes the above-mentioned exposure on all assessment years.

- The Company is currently registered with the Authority as a Company subject to 100% zakat on the basis that the legal ownership of the Company and its shareholders are either citizens of the Gulf Cooperation Council countries or companies established in the countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council whose shareholders are entirely citizens of the Gulf Cooperation Council countries. Further, dividends to the above-mentioned former shareholder are not, in the management's view, subject to withholding tax because they are a Company residing in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia (as a Saudi limited liability Company as per the Articles of Association).

- Discussions with the Authority regarding the above matter are still ongoing and at an early stage, and the outcome of the above order is still uncertain. Further, in anticipation of any situation imposed by the Authority, as well as any related fines or delay penalties, the above-mentioned former Shareholder has submitted to the Company a Letter of Indemnification to bear any tax obligations that the Authority may impose on the Company in relation to the above subject matter. Therefore, in light of the information currently available and the letter of indemnity pledge from the aforementioned shareholder, management is of the opinion that it is unlikely that there will be any material exposure to the Company in relation to the above communications from the Authority.

8- Risks associated with Political Instability and Security Concerns in the Middle East

The Company's assets, operations and target customers are in the Kingdom. The Middle East region is exposed to a number of geopolitical and security risks that may affect the countries of the Gulf Cooperation Council, including KSA.

9- Value Added Tax Risks

KSA issued VAT Law, which entered into force on January 1, 2018. This Law imposes an added value of 5% on a number of products and services, according to the Law. On May 11, 2020, the Ministry of Finance announced an additional increase in value-added tax to reach 15% as of July 1, 2020.

Due to the recent application of this Law and the announced increase in the value-added tax rate, any violation or wrong application of it by the company's management or employees may increase the costs and operational expenses that the company will bear or expose the company to fines of up to fifty thousand Saudi riyals, penalties or lead to damage to its reputation. In addition, this increase and any potential increase in value-added tax may reduce the level of demand for the company's services and products or affect its profitability in the event that the company is unable to collect this tax from its customers, which will have a material negative impact on its business, financial position and the results of its operations and future prospects.

Financial and Operational Results

Financial and Operational Results

The assets, liabilities and results of the company's business

Financial Outcomes

- During 2021, the company achieved a net profit before deduction of zakat of 132.5 million riyals, compared to 67.4 million riyals for the year 2020
- During 2021, the company achieved a net profit of 125.7 million riyals after deducting zakat, compared to 63.2 million riyals for the year 2020
- During 2021, the company's revenues from its main activities amounted to 752.4 million riyals, compared to 660.0 million riyals for the year 2020
- During the year 2021, earnings per share amounted to 2.92 riyals, compared to 1.47 riyals for the year 2020.

The reason of 2021 net profit increased compared to 2020 AD is due to:

The net profit for the year ended December 2021, 31 A.D. increased to 125.0 million Saudi riyals, compared to 63.0 million Saudi riyals for the year ended December 2020, 31, equivalent to %99. The increase in net profit for the current year compared to the previous year is attributed to several factors, the most important of which are:

- First: Increasing the revenues of the short-term rental sector during the year 2021 AD compared to the year 2020, where the revenues increased from 255.0 million riyals to 358.4 million riyals. This sector has been greatly affected by the precautionary measures to limit the spread of COVID19- during the year 2020. This led to the restriction of operations at the main ports (airports and branches outside airports). The current year showed an improvement in usage rates as a result of the increased demand for car rental services.
- Second: Continuing growth in the long-term leasing sector, as revenues increased from 250.0 million Saudi riyals in 2020 to 270.3 million Saudi riyals in 2021. This is due to obtaining new contracts during the year, in addition to maintaining and renewing existing contracts for similar periods.

Launching a campaign, "Tarfq Ya Theeb

It is the traffic safety program from Theeb Rent a Car in 2021

A Brief

Yaltheeb is a campaign launched by Theeb Rent a Car Company to adopt the concept of traffic safety with the fact that the paramount goal is to drive cars safely as a habit.

Campaign message

Despite the comprehensiveness of the title of the # Tarfq Ya Theeb campaign, it came within a specific scope, which is traffic safety. The campaign message was limited to five main themes and direct messages, based on facts

Campaign Objectives

Community awareness of traffic safety and the dangers of reckless driving.

Guiding the community to follow traffic safety.

Teaching the importance of community life and concern for the safety of others.

Targeted Age Group

Main category: Youth from 18 to 32 years old

Secondary category: from 32 years old to 50 years old

Reason for naming

The name "Tarfq_Ya Theeb" came out of the desire to create a name that would affect the ears of the listeners, in addition to the possibility of applying it and using it in various fields, which gave freedom to deal with the name. As well as the ability to revive the campaign at any time for any field. The most important reason is to attach a lofty value, which is the kindness to the name of the company, Theeb.

Campaign Logo

The identity logo was designed with two uses that suit the different applications that the campaign came up with. The logo is characterized by simplicity, clarity, and flexibility

"#Tarfq_Ya Theeb" Campaign video

The message carried by the video "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb" is to make safe driving a permanent habit and that the safety of the driver and the safety of everything on the street depends on the driver himself after God.

The idea of measuring the percentage of driving and the occurrence of an accident was employed with two meters similar to those found in video games, where each counter increases and decreases based on every movement and small step made by the driver.

Radio advertisements

To convey a message that affects the safety and security of people on the street, the channel must be in the place where the decision is taken. Whereas the message of "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb" calls for safe driving, the best place to display it is on the radio, where the individual listens to it in the car. The advertisement is based on the previous knowledge of the driver's auditory sense through well-known tones and sounds such as the sound of the seat belt, the mobile message, the speedometer, and the driver's safety awareness at the end of the advertisement.

Launching the Internal Campaign

The campaign was launched on two scales; Internal at the company level and electronically at the level of the company's accounts on social networking sites.

Internal Release:

The campaign was launched internally first at the company's employee level, through mobile text messages with content similar to the contents of a violation entry, followed by sending an email explaining the campaign details.

Internal Activation

To promote the campaign among employees; The stationery used by the staff has been re-implemented and designed in a way that reflects the meaning of the moral as well as the visual meaning of "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb."

Theeb Branches

The activation of the branches also included circulating the "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb board at the doors of all branches as the first visual element that the customer sees when entering the branch. Also, all the reception staff counters were changed to match the identity of "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb." In addition to that; Every contract that comes out of Theeb is stamped with the slogan "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb.

Electronic Activation

Electronic activation is one of the pillars of the success of campaigns. In the "#Tarfq_Ya Theeb campaign, strategies and plans were developed to build an activation plan on social media, where the campaign was launched, with an exciting strategy that attracted customers and raised their questions by publishing clips related to the campaign title without text. This was followed by the launch of the campaign's official video with a traffic safety booklet in its electronic version.

The campaign cooperated with several influential accounts in the field of driving and traffic safety in general to diversify the contents, in addition to continuously improving the quality of interaction and building a special relationship with customers through Theeb accounts on social networking sites.
