Scope of Review

We have reviewed the accompanying interim statement of financial position of AlJazira Takaful Taawuni Company – a Saudi Joint Stock Company (the "Company") as at 30 June 2014, and related interim statements of Insurance Operations and accumulated surplus, Shareholders' Operations and comprehensive income for the three-month period ended 30 June 2014 and for the period from 3 July 2013 to 30 June 2014 and the related interim statements of changes in Shareholders' equity, Insurance Operations' cash flows and Shareholders' cash flows for the period from 3 July 2013 to 30 June 2014 and the related notes from 1 to 14 which form an integral part of these interim condensed financial statements. These interim condensed financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management and have been prepared by them in accordance with the International Accounting Standard 34 – Interim Financial Reporting ("IAS 34") and submitted to us together with all the information and explanations which we required.

We conducted our review in accordance with the Standard on Review of Interim Financial Reporting issued by the Saudi Organization for Certified Public Accountants ("SOCPA"). A review consists principally of applying analytical procedures to financial data and information and making inquiries of person responsible for financial and accounting matters. It is substantially less in scope than an audit conducted in accordance with the Generally Accepted Auditing Standards in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, the objective of which is the expression of an opinion on the financial statements taken as a whole. Accordingly, we do not express such an opinion.

Conclusion

Based on our review, we are not aware of any material modifications that should be made to the accompanying interim condensed financial statements for them to be in conformity with IAS 34.

Emphasis of Matters

We draw attention to the fact that these interim condensed financial statements are prepared in accordance with IAS 34 and not in accordance with Standard on Interim Financial Reporting issued by SOCPA.

(d) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

The significant accounting policies adopted in preparation of these interim condensed financial statements as a result of commencement of the Company are set out below:

Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents consist of cash and bank balances and Murabaha deposits that have original maturity period not exceeding three months.

Contributions receivable

Contributions receivable are stated at gross considerations from insurance contract less an allowance for any uncollectible amounts (impairment). An allowance for impairment is made when collection of due amount is no longer probable. Bad debts are written off as incurred.

Available-for-sale investments held to cover unit-linked liabilities

The classification depends on the purpose for which the investments were acquired or originated. The Company's investments are classified as available-for-sale investments.

Available-for-sale financial assets are non-derivative financial assets that are designated as available-for-sale. These investments are initially recorded at fair value. After initial measurement available-for-sale investments are measured at fair value.

Financial assets held to cover unit-linked liabilities represent assets associated with certain contracts, for which the investment risk lies predominantly with the contract holder. These represent investments in units of mutual funds, which are readily marketable. Fair value gains and losses are reported as a separate component and included under the reserve for insurance activities.

FVIS Investments

Investments are classified as Fair Value through Statement of Income (FVIS), if the fair value of the investment can be reliably measured and the classification as FVIS is as per the documented strategy of the Company. Investment classified as FVIS are initially recognised at cost, being fair value of consideration given. Subsequently, such investments are re-measured at fair value, with all changes in fair value being recorded in the statement of shareholders' operations.

Fair values of investments are based on quoted prices for the marketable securities.

Reserve for Insurance activities

The provision for investment contract liabilities is calculated on the basis of an actuarial valuation method by independent appointed actuary through the use of the current unit fund price.

The actuarial valuation includes a provision for participation which is the amount the Company expects to pay investment contract holders.

2. BASIS OF PREPARATION AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES –

Liability adequacy test

At each statement of financial position date, liability adequacy tests are performed to ensure the adequacy of the insurance contracts liabilities. In performing these tests, management uses current best estimates of future contractual cash flows and claims handling and administration expenses. Any deficiency in the carrying amounts is immediately charged to the statement of insurance operations and accumulated surplus by establishing a provision for losses arising from liability adequacy tests (the un-expired risk provision).

Where the liability adequacy test requires the adoption of new best estimate assumptions, such assumptions (without margins for adverse deviation) are used for the subsequent measurement of these liabilities.

Reinsurance

The Company cedes its insurance risk in the normal course of business for all of its segments. Reinsurance contracts are contracts entered into by the Company under which the Company is compensated for losses on insurance contracts issued. The Company only deals with reinsurers approved by the management, which are rated at least BBB or above by international rating agencies. Reinsurance arrangements do not relieve the Company from its obligations to policyholders.

The benefits to which the Company is entitled under its Reinsurance contracts held are recognised as Reinsurance assets. These assets consist of the Reinsurance share of settlement of claims and other receivables such as profit commissions and the Reinsurance share of outstanding claims that are dependent on the expected claims and benefits arising under the related Reinsurance contracts. Reinsurance liabilities represent balances due to Reinsurance companies.

Amounts recoverable from or due to Reinsurance companies are recognised consistently with the amounts associated with the underlying Insurance contracts and in accordance with the terms of each Reinsurance contract.

Accounts payable and accruals

Liabilities are recognised for amounts to be paid in the future for goods or services received, whether billed by the supplier or not.

Contribution deposit

Contribution deposit is taken from potential policy holders in respect of initial contribution. On completion of mandatory documentation and medical examination of potential policy holder, this deposit transfers to gross written contribution.

Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Company has an obligation (legal or constructive) as a result of a past event and it is probable that an outflow of resources will be required to settle the obligation and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation.

Zakat and income tax

Zakat and income tax are provided for in accordance with the Saudi Arabian fiscal regulations. Zakat is debited to the Saudi founding shareholders and general public equity accounts while income tax is debited to non-Saudi founding shareholders' equity accounts. Additional amounts, if any, that may become due on finalisation of an assessment are recorded in the year in which the assessment is finalised.

As all Zakat and income tax charges will be recovered from the shareholders, no adjustments are made in the financial statements to account for the effects of deferred income taxes.

Revenue recognition

Contributions are taken into statement of Insurance Operations and accumulated surplus over the terms of the policies to which they relate on a pro-rata basis. Unearned contributions represent the portion of contributions written relating to the unexpired period of coverage at the reporting date. The change in the provision for unearned contributions is taken to the statement of insurance operations and accumulated surplus in order that revenue is recognised over the period of risk.

Rebate pertaining to unit-linked investments are calculated in accordance with the terms of agreement with Fund Manager and is accounted for on accrual basis.

Gain or loss on sale of investment is recognised as income or loss in the statement of shareholders' operations.

Portfolio management fee is calculated in accordance with the terms of agreement with the founding shareholder and is accounted for on accrual basis.

Pre-incorporation expenses

Pre-incorporation expenses that are not of economic benefit beyond the current period are charged to the Statement of Shareholders' Operations.

Transaction cost

Transaction costs to raise share capital are incremental costs that are directly attributable to the issue of share capital are accounted for as a deduction from equity.

Impairment of financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date, whether there is any objective evidence that a financial asset or a group of financial assets is impaired. A financial asset or a group of financial assets is deemed to be impaired if, and only if, there is objective evidence of impairment as a result of one or more events that have occurred after the initial recognition of the asset (an incurred loss event) and that loss event (or events) has an impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset or the group of financial assets that can be reliably estimated. If such evidence exists, impairment loss is recognised in the statement of shareholders' operations.

Evidence of impairment may include indications that the debtors or a group of debtors is experiencing a significant financial difficulty, default or delinquency in repayments, the probability that they will enter bankruptcy or other financial reorganisation and observable data indicating that there is a measurable decrease in the estimated future cash flows, such as changes in arrears or economic conditions that correlate with defaults. Impairment is determined as follows:

- (a) for assets carried at cost, impairment is the difference between carrying value and the present value of future cash flows discounted at the current market rate of return for a similar financial asset; and
- (b) for assets carried at amortised cost, impairment is the difference between the carrying amount and the present value of future cash flows discounted at the original effective commission rate.

Impairment of non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's, or cash-generating unit's (CGU), fair value less costs to sell and its value in use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or groups of assets. When the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount. In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples, quoted share prices for publicly traded subsidiaries or other available fair value indicators.

The Company bases its impairment calculation on detailed budgets and forecast calculations, which are prepared separately for each of the Company's CGUs to which the individual assets are allocated. These budgets and forecast calculations generally cover a period of three to five years. For longer periods, a long-term growth rate is calculated and applied to project future cash flows after the fifth year.

Impairment losses of continuing operations are recognised in the statement of shareholders' operations in expense categories consistent with the function of the impaired asset, except for a property previously revalued and where the revaluation was taken to other comprehensive income. In this case, the impairment is also recognised in other comprehensive income up to the amount of any previous revaluation.

An assessment is made at each reporting date whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognised in the Statement of Shareholders' Operations unless the asset is carried at a revalued amount, in which case the reversal is treated as a revaluation increase.

De-recognition

A financial asset (or, where applicable, a part of a financial asset or part of a group of similar financial assets) is derecognised when:

- The rights to receive cash flows from the asset have expired;
- The Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from the asset or has assumed an obligation to pay the received cash flows in full without material delay to a third party under a 'pass-through' arrangement; and either (a) the Company has transferred substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, or (b) the Company has neither transferred nor retained substantially all the risks and rewards of the asset, but has transferred control of the asset.

When the Company has transferred its rights to receive cash flows from an asset or has entered into a 'pass-through' arrangement, it evaluates if and to what extent it has retained the risks and rewards of ownership. When it has neither transferred nor retained substantially all of the risks and rewards of the asset, nor transferred control of the asset, the asset is recognised to the extent of the Company's continuing involvement in the asset. In that case, the Company also recognises an associated liability. The transferred asset and the associated liability are measured on a basis that reflects the rights and obligations that the Company has retained. Continuing involvement that takes the form of a guarantee over the transferred asset is measured at the lower of the original carrying amount of the asset and the maximum amount of consideration that the Company could be required to repay.

A financial liability is derecognised when the obligation under the liability is discharged or cancelled or expires.

Offsetting

Financial assets and financial liabilities are offset and the net amount reported in the statement of financial position only when there is a legally enforceable right to offset the recognised amounts and there is an intention to settle on a net basis, or to realise the assets and settle the liabilities simultaneously. Income and expenses are not offset in the Statement of Shareholders' Operations unless required or permitted by any accounting standard or interpretation, as specifically disclosed in the accounting policies of the Company.

Foreign currencies

The accounting records of the Company are maintained in Saudi Arabian Riyals. Transactions in foreign currencies are recorded in Saudi Arabian Riyals at the approximate rate of exchange ruling at the date of the transaction. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are retranslated at the rate of exchange ruling at the Statement of Financial Position date.
