The Credit Rating can take one of the following values AAA, AA, A, BBB, BB, B, C and NR.

MATURITY BREAKDOWN

GLOSSARY

Total Expense Ratio (TER): A measure of the total costs associated with managing and operating the fund. The TER consists primarily of the management fee (which covers costs for maintaining the fund such as trustee, custodial, and accounting fees) plus other operating expenses. It is expressed as a percentage of the fund's total net asset value.

ETF's Distribution Yield: The Distribution Yield is calculated by taking the sum of distributions made during the trailing 12 months divided by the most recent month-end Net Asset Value (NAV). Please note that this yield does not necessarily reflect the yield that an investor will receive, and distributions may vary from time to time.

Product Structure: Indicates whether the fund buys the actual underlying securities in the index (i.e. Physical) or whether the fund gains exposure to those securities by buying derivatives, such as swaps (known as 'synthetic').

Methodology: Indicates whether the product is holding all index securities in the same weight as the index (replicating) or whether an optimised subset of index securities is used (optimised/sampled) in order to efficiently track index performance.

Average Yield to Maturity (YTM): YTM represents the total return expected from a Treasury bill if held until maturity. It is calculated by solving for the interest rate that equates the present value of the bill's future cash flow (the face value at maturity) to its current market price. For the fund, this is the duration-adjusted weighted average YTM for all Treasury bills held in the portfolio.

Average Maturity (Years): Maturity refers to the time remaining until the face value of a treasury bill becomes due and payable to the holder. For the fund, this represents the weighted average maturity of all treasury bills held in the portfolio.

Average Duration: Duration measures the sensitivity of the price of Treasury bills to interest rate changes. Since Treasury bills are zero-coupon securities, their duration is equal to their time to maturity. For the fund, this is the weighted average duration of all Treasury bills held in the portfolio.

Average Credit Rating: Credit Rating is an evaluation of the creditworthiness of a treasury bill issuer, indicating the issuer's ability to meet its debt obligations in a timely manner. It is assigned by credit rating agencies based on the issuer's financial stability, repayment history, and overall credit risk. For the fund, this is the weighted average credit rating for all treasury bills held in the fund.
