Independent auditors' report

To the Shareholders of Saudi Airlines Catering Company

Opinion

We have audited the financial statements of Saudi Airlines Catering Company ("the Company"), which comprise the statement of financial position as at December 31, 2018, the statements of profit or loss and other comprehensive income, changes in equity and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes, to the financial statements comprising significant accounting policies and other explanatory information.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of the Company as at December 31, 2018, and its financial performance and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by the Saudi Organization for Certified Public Accountants (SOCPA).

Basis for Opinion

We conducted our audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Company in accordance with the professional code of conduct and ethics that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia that are relevant to our audit of the financial statements, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Key Audit Matters

Key audit matters are those matters that, in our professional judgment, were of most significance in our audit of the financial statements of the current period. These matters were addressed in the context of our audit of the financial statements as a whole, and in forming our opinion thereon, and we do not provide a separate opinion on these matters.

Independent auditors' report

To the Shareholders of Saudi Airlines Catering Company

Revenue recognition

Refer to notes 4 and 5 for the accounting policy and note 23 for the related disclosure.

Key audit matter

As at December 31, 2018, the Company recognized total revenue of SR 2,036 million (2017: SR 1,953 million).

There continues to be pressure on the Company to meet expectations and targets, which may result in a misstatement of revenue.

Revenue recognition is considered a key audit matter as there is a risk that management may override controls to misstate revenue transactions, and there is a risk of misapplication of the new accounting standard.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

We performed the following procedures in relation to revenue recognition:

- Assessed the appropriateness of the Company's revenue recognition accounting policies by considering the requirements of relevant accounting standards ;
- Reviewed management's IFRS 15 assessment to verify the reasonableness and the accuracy and completeness of the impact on the financial statements of the Company.
- Assessed the design and implementation, and tested the effectiveness of the Company's controls, including anti-fraud controls, over the recognition of revenue as per the Company's policy;
- Inspected sales transactions, on a sample basis taking place at either side of the year-end to assess whether revenue was recognized in the correct period;
- Developed an expectation of the current year revenue balance for different segments based on trend analysis or other available information, taking into account sales volume, average prices and our understanding of the market. We then compared this expectation to actual revenue and, where relevant, completed further inquiries and testing;
- Selected, on a sample basis, revenue transactions and verified the related supporting documents to ensure the accuracy and validity of revenue recognition.
- Obtained an understanding of the nature of the revenue contracts entered into by the Company for each significant revenue stream, tested a sample of sales contracts to confirm our understanding and assessed whether or not management's application of IFRS 15 requirements was in accordance with the standard.

Independent auditors' report

To the Shareholders of Saudi Airlines Catering Company

First time adoption of IFRS 9 – "Financial Instruments"

Refer to note 5 for the accounting policy.

Key audit matter

As at December 31, 2018, the Trade Receivables balance was SAR 950 million (2017: SAR 855 million)

The Company adopted IFRS 9 on its effective date of 1 January 2018 superseding the requirements of IAS 39 "Financial Instruments – recognition and measurement"

Management assessed that the key changes arising from adoption of IFRS 9 related to the recognition and measurement of the impairment allowance on financial assets carried at amortized cost.

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether the financial assets carried at amortized cost are credit impaired, and consequently measures impairment allowances based on the Expected Credit Loss (ECL) model as envisaged in IFRS 9, rather than the incurred losses model details in IAS 39.

The Company's management applied the simplified expected credit loss ("ECL") model to determine the allowance for impairment of trade receivables. Further, the Company applied the exemption provided by IFRS 9 not to restate the comparative periods as a result of the adoption of IFRS 9.

The ECL model involves the use of various assumptions, covering both future macro-economic factors and study of historical trends.

We considered this as a key audit matter due to the judgements and estimates involved in the application of the expected credit loss model.

How the matter was addressed in our audit

We performed the following procedures in relation to the implementation of IFRS 9:

- Reviewed management's assessment of the impact of IFRS 9 in terms of the classification and measurement of its financial assets and liabilities, and understood the approach taken towards implementation.
- Considered and evaluated the validity of management's conclusion that the main area of impact was in respect of trade receivables impairment, using our experience and knowledge of entities operating in similar industries.
- Tested significant assumptions, including those related to future economic events that were used to calculate the likelihood of default and the expected loss on default and tested the arithmetical accuracy of the ECL model.
- We also evaluated the adequacy of the disclosures included in the accompanying financials statements.

Other Information

Management is responsible for the other information. The other information comprises the information included in the annual report but does not include the financial statements and our auditors' report thereon. The annual report is expected to be made available to us after the date of this auditors' report.

Our opinion on the financial statements does not cover the other information and we will not express any form of assurance conclusion thereon.

In connection with our audit of the financial statements, our responsibility is to read the other information identified above when it becomes available and, in doing so, consider whether the other information is materially inconsistent with the financial statements or our knowledge obtained in the audit, or otherwise appears to be materially misstated.

When we read the annual report, when made available to us, if we conclude that there is a material misstatement therein, we are required to communicate the matter to those charged with governance.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Statements.

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the financial statements in accordance with IFRS that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements issued by SOCPA, the applicable requirements of the Regulations for Companies and Company's By-laws and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Company's financial reporting process.

Auditors' Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditors' report that includes our opinion. 'Reasonable assurance' is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with International Standards on Auditing that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with International Standards on Auditing that are endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, we exercise professional judgement and maintain professional scepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

Independent auditors' report

- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.
- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Company's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, then we are required to draw attention in our auditors' report to the related disclosures in the financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditors' report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Company to cease to continue as a going concern.

Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation. We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit of Saudi Airlines Catering Company ("the Company").

We also provide those charged with governance with a statement that we have complied with relevant ethical requirements regarding independence, and communicate with them all relationships and other matters that may reasonably be thought to bear on our independence and where applicable, related safeguards.

From the matters communicated with those charged with governance, we determine those matters that were of most significance in the audit of the financial statements of the current period and are therefore the key audit matters. We describe these matters in our auditors' report unless law or regulation precludes public disclosure about the matter or when, in extremely rare circumstances, we determine that a matter should not be communicated in our report because the adverse consequences of doing so would reasonably be expected to outweigh the public interest benefits of such communication.

SAUDI AIRLINES CATERING COMPANY
(A Saudi Joint Stock Company)
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the year ended December 31, 2018
(Expressed in Saudi Arabian Riyals)

2. BASIS OF ACCOUNTING

a) Statement of compliance

These Financial Statements have been prepared in accordance with International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRS) as endorsed in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia and other standards and pronouncements that are issued by Saudi Organization for Certified Public Accountants ("SOCPA") (hereafter referred to as "IFRS as endorsed in KSA").

According to the announcement of the Capital Market Authority (CMA) dated October 16, 2016, the Company has to apply the cost method for the measurement of the property, plant and equipment, investment properties and intangible assets for 3 years from the date of applying IFRS.

b) Basis of Measurement

These financial statements have been prepared under the historical cost basis, except for the defined benefit obligation which is recognized at the present value of future obligation using the projected unit credit method. Further, the financial statements are prepared using the accrual basis of accounting and going concern concept.

c) Functional and presentation currency

These financial statements are presented in Saudi Arabian Riyals ("SR") which is the Company's functional and presentation currency.

3. USE OF JUDGMENTS AND ESTIMATES

In preparing these financial statements, management has made judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of the Company's accounting policies and the reported amounts of assets and liabilities, income and expense. Actual results may differ from these estimates.

Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Revisions to accounting estimates are recognized prospectively.

A. Judgements

Management exercise its judgement in applying the accounting policies that have the most significant effects on the amounts recognized in the financial statements.

Revenue recognition

Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and is recognized at a point of time when the control of goods is transferred to the customers.

Management exercise its judgement on whether it acts as a principal or agent in its contractual agreements and recognizes revenue on gross or net basis accordingly.

SAUDI AIRLINES CATERING COMPANY
(A Saudi Joint Stock Company)
NOTES TO THE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
For the year ended December 31, 2018
(Expressed in Saudi Arabian Riyals)

3. USE OF JUDGEMENTS AND ESTIMATES (continued)

B. Assumptions and estimation uncertainty

The key assumptions concerning the future and other key sources of estimation uncertainty at the reporting date, that have a significant risk of causing a material adjustment to the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities within the next financial year are discussed below.

Inventories obsolescence provision

Inventories are held at the lower of cost and net realisable value. When inventories become old or obsolete, an estimate is made of their net realisable value. For individually significant amounts, this estimation is performed on an individual basis. Amounts which are not individually significant, but which are old or obsolete, are assessed collectively and a provision applied according to the inventory type and the degree of ageing or obsolescence.

At the reporting date, gross inventories were SR 138 million (December 31, 2017: SR 114 million) with a provision for obsolete and slow-moving inventories amounting to SR 13.4 million (December 31, 2017: SR 4.3 million). Any difference between the amounts actually realized in future periods and the amounts expected will be recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

Defined Benefit Obligation

The present value of Company's obligation under defined benefit plans is determined using actuarial valuation. This involves making various assumptions that may differ from actual developments in the future. These include the determination of the discount rate, future salary increases, mortality rates and employees' turnover rate. Due to the complexities involved in the valuation and its long-term nature, a defined benefit obligation is sensitive to changes in these assumptions. All assumptions are reviewed annually. Future salary increases are based on expected future inflation rates, seniority, promotion, demand and supply in the employment market.

Impairment for expected credit losses (ECI) in trade and other receivables

The Company's determination of the ECI in trade and other receivables requires the Company to take into consideration certain estimates for forward looking factors while calculating the probability of default. These estimates may differ from actual circumstances.

Impairment of associates

The Company exercises judgement to consider the impairment of associate as well as their underlying assets. This includes the assessment of objective evidence which causes other than temporary decline in the value of investments. Any significant and prolonged decline in the fair value below its cost is considered as objective evidence for the impairment. The determination of what is 'significant' and 'prolonged' requires judgement. The Company also considers impairment to be appropriate when there is evidence of deterioration in the financial health of the investee, industry and sector performance, changes in technology, and operational and financing cash flows.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

a. Investments in Associates

An associate is an entity over which the Company has significant influence. Significant influence is the power to participate in the financial and operating policy decisions of the investee but is not control or joint control over those policies.

The Company investments in its associate is accounted for using the equity method.

Under the equity method, the investment in an associate is initially recognized at cost. The carrying amount of the investment is adjusted to recognize changes in the Company's share of net assets of the associate since the acquisition date. Goodwill relating to the associate is included in the carrying amount of the investment and is neither amortised, nor individually tested for impairment.

The profit or loss reflects the Company's share of the results of operations of the associate. Any change in OCI of those investees is presented as part of the Company's OCI. In addition, when there has been a change recognized directly in the equity of the associate, the Company recognizes its share of any changes, when applicable, in the statement of changes in equity. Unrealized gains and losses resulting from transactions between the Company and the associate are eliminated to the extent of the interest in the associate.

The aggregate of the Company's share of profit or loss of an associate is shown on the face of the statement of profit or loss outside operating profit and represents profit or loss after tax.

The financial statements of the associate are prepared for the same reporting period as the Company. When necessary, adjustments are made to bring the accounting policies in line with those of the Company.

After application of the equity method, the Company determines whether it is necessary to recognize an impairment loss on its investment in its associate. At each reporting date, the Company determines whether there is objective evidence that the investment in the associate is impaired. If there is such evidence, the Company calculates the amount of impairment as the difference between the recoverable amount of the associate and its carrying value, then recognizes the loss.

Upon loss of significant influence over the associate, the Company measures and recognizes any retained investment at its fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount of the associate upon loss of significant influence and the fair value of the retained investment and proceeds from disposal is recognized in profit or loss.

b. Foreign currency transactions

Transactions in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency of the Company at the exchange rates at the dates of the transactions. Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies are translated into the functional currency at the exchange rate at the reporting date. Non-monetary items that are measured based on historical cost in a foreign currency are translated at the exchange rate at the date of the transaction. Foreign currency differences are generally recognized in profit or loss.

4. SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (continued)

c. Revenue

The Company recognizes revenue at the amount of the transaction price that is allocated to that performance obligation. Revenue is recorded net of returns, trade discounts, volume rebates, estimates of other variable consideration and amounts collected on behalf of third parties.

The Company recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five step model as set out in IFRS 15- Revenue from Contracts with Customers. Revenue is measured based on the consideration specified in a contract with a customer and is recognized at a point of time when the control of goods is transferred to the customers.

Generally, the Company considers the following indicators of the transfer of control:

- a) The Company has a present right to payment for the goods/asset.
- b) The customer has legal title to the goods/asset.
- c) The Company has transferred physical possession/control of the goods/asset.
- d) The customer has the significant risks and rewards of ownership of the goods/asset.
- e) The customer has accepted the goods/asset.

Catering revenue

Revenue from catering and other services is recognized when the services are rendered to the customer.

Airline equipment

Income is recognized when the control over the equipment is transferred to the customer.

Business lounges

Revenue from business lounges is recognized upon rendering the service to the passengers.

Sales of goods - Retail

Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the Company satisfies the performance obligation by transferring the promised goods (asset) to the customer. An asset is transferred when the customer obtains control of that asset.

d. Employee benefits

i. Short-term employee benefits

Short-term employee benefits are expensed as the related service is provided. A liability is recognized for the amount expected to be paid if the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation to pay this amount as a result of the past service provided by the employee and the obligation can be estimated reliably.

ii. Defined benefit plans

Provision is made for amounts payable to employees under the Saudi Labour Law and employee contracts. This liability, which is unfunded, represents the amount payable to each employee on a going concern basis.

The Company provides end of service benefits to employees. These benefits are unfunded. The cost of providing benefits is determined using the projected unit credit method as amended by IAS 19.

Remeasurements, comprising of actuarial gains and losses, excluding amounts included in interest on the defined benefit liability are recognized immediately in the statement of financial position with a corresponding debit or credit to retained earnings through OCI in the period in which they occur. Remeasurements are not reclassified to profit or loss in subsequent periods.

Past service costs are recognized in profit or loss on the earlier of:

- The date of the plan amendment or curtailment, and
- The date that the Company recognizes related restructuring costs

Interest is calculated by applying the discount rate to the defined benefit liability. The Company recognizes the following changes in the defined benefit obligation under 'cost of sales', and 'general and administration expenses' in the income statement:

- Service costs comprising current service costs, past-service costs, gains and losses on curtailments and non-routine settlements
- Interest expense or income

iii. Other long-term employee benefits

The Company's obligation in respect of long-term employee benefits is the amount of future benefit that employees have earned in return for their service in the current and prior periods. That benefit is discounted to determine its present value if the impact is material. Remeasurements are recognized in profit or loss in the period in which they arise.

iv. Termination benefits

Termination benefits are expensed at the earlier of when the Company can no longer withdraw the offer of those benefits and when the Company recognizes costs for a restructuring. If benefits are not expected to be settled wholly within 12 months of the reporting date, then they are discounted.

e. Zakat and income tax

The Company is subject to Regulations of Saudi General Authority of Zakat and Income Tax ("GAZT") in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia. Zakat and income tax are provided on an accruals basis. The Zakat charge is computed on the Zakat base. Income tax is computed on adjusted net income. The amount of Zakat and income tax is the best estimate of the Zakat and income tax amount expected to be paid or received that reflects uncertainty related to income taxes, if any. It is measured using Zakat and tax rates enacted or substantially enacted at the reporting date.

Deferred tax is recognized in respect of temporary differences between the carrying amounts of assets and liabilities for financial reporting purposes and the amounts used for taxation purposes. Deferred tax assets are recognized for unused tax losses, unused tax credits and deductible temporary differences to the extent that it is probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used. Future taxable profits are determined based on business plans of the Company and the reversal of temporary differences. Deferred tax assets are reviewed at each reporting date and are reduced to the extent that it is no longer probable that the related tax benefit will be realized; such reductions are reversed when the probability of future taxable profits improves. Unrecognized deferred tax assets are reassessed at each reporting date and recognized to the extent that it has become probable that future taxable profits will be available against which they can be used.

Deferred tax is measured at the tax rates that are expected to be applied to temporary differences when they reverse, using tax rates enacted or substantively enacted at the reporting date.

The Company withholds taxes on transactions with non-resident parties and on dividends paid to foreign shareholders in accordance with GAZT regulations, which is not recognized as an expense being the obligation of the counter party on whose behalf the amounts are withheld.

f. Segment information

A segment is a distinguishable component of the Company that engages in business activities from which it earns revenue and incurs costs. The operating segments are used by the management of the Company to allocate resources and assess performance. Operating segments exhibiting similar economic characteristics, product and services, class of customers where appropriate are aggregated and reported as reportable segments.

The Company has the following three strategic divisions, which are reportable segments. These divisions offer different products and services, and are managed separately because of their different fundamentals.

The following summary describes the operations of each reportable segment:

Reportable segments	Operations
Inflight	Inflight catering, airline equipment and business lounge
Retail	Onboard and ground
Catering and Facilities	Remote & Camp management, Business & Industries catering, Security services, Laundry services, Hajj & Umrah & Baggage handling services

The Company's Board reviews the internal management reports of each strategic division at least quarterly.

g. Contingencies

Contingent liabilities are not recognised in the financial statements, but are disclosed unless the possibility of an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits is remote.

Contingent assets are not recognised in the financial statements, but are disclosed when an inflow of economic benefits is probable.

h. Finance income and finance cost

Interest income or expense is recognised using the effective interest method. Dividend income is recognised in profit or loss on the date on which the Company right to receive payment is established.

i. Operating profit

Operating profit is the result generated from the continuing principal revenue producing activities of the Company as well as other income and expenses related to operating activities. Operating profit excludes net finance costs, share of profit of equity accounted investees and income taxes.

j. Interest income

Interest income is recognized on a time proportion basis using the effective interest method.

k. Rental income

Rental income arising from operating leases on investment properties is accounted for on a straight-line basis over the lease terms and is included in statement of profit or loss.

l. Inventories

Inventories are measured at the lower of cost and net realisable value. The cost of inventories is based on the weighted average principle and includes expenditure incurred in acquiring the inventories and other costs incurred in bringing them to their existing location and condition. Net realisable value is the estimated selling price in the ordinary course of business, less estimated costs of completion and the estimated costs to sell.

The Company determines its allowance for inventory obsolescence based upon historical experience, current condition, and current and future expectations with respect to sales.

m. Current versus non-current classification

The Company presents assets and liabilities in the statement of financial position based on current/non-current classification. An asset is current when it is:

- Expected to be realized or intended to be sold or consumed in the normal operating cycle;
- Held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- Expected to be realized within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- Cash or cash equivalent unless restricted from being exchanged or used to settle a liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

m. Current versus non-current classification (continued)

The Company classifies all other assets as non-current.

A liability is current when:

- It is expected to be settled in the normal operating cycle;
- It is held primarily for the purpose of trading;
- It is due to be settled within twelve months after the reporting period; or
- There is no unconditional right to defer the settlement of the liability for at least twelve months after the reporting period.

The Company classifies all other liabilities as non-current.

n. Property, plant and equipment

i. Recognition and measurement

Items of property, plant and equipment are measured at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses.

Expenditure on maintenance and repairs of items of Property, plant and equipment is expensed, while expenditure for betterment is capitalized.

If significant parts of an item of property, plant and equipment have different useful lives, then they are accounted for as separate items (major components) of property, plant and equipment.

Any gain or loss on disposal of an item of property, plant and equipment is recognized in the profit or loss.

Capital work-in-progress represents all costs relating directly to on-going construction projects and are capitalized as a separate component of property, plant and equipment. On completion, the cost of construction is transferred to the appropriate category. Capital work-in-progress is not depreciated.

ii. Subsequent expenditure

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only if it is probable that the future economic benefits associated with the expenditure will flow to the Company.

iii. Depreciation

Depreciation is calculated to write off the cost of items of property, plant and equipment less their estimated residual values using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives, and is generally recognized in profit or loss. Land is not depreciated.

n. Property, plant and equipment (continued)

The estimated useful lives of the principal classes of assets are as follows:

Leasehold improvements	2-30 years
Equipment	3-15 years
Motor vehicles	7-10 Years

Depreciation methods, useful lives and residual values are reviewed at each reporting date and adjusted if appropriate to ensure that the method and period of depreciation are consistent with the expected pattern of economic benefits arising from items of property and equipment.

o. Investment property

Investment property is initially measured at cost and is depreciated over its useful life.

Any gain or loss on disposal of investment property (calculated as the difference between the net proceeds from disposal and the carrying amount of the item) is recognized in profit or loss.

Rental income from investment property is recognized as revenue on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives granted are recognized as an integral part of the total rental income, over the term of the lease.

Rental income from other property is recognized as other income

p. Intangible assets

Intangible assets acquired separately are measured on initial recognition at cost. Intangibles comprise software, which have finite useful lives and are measured at cost less accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment losses.

Subsequent expenditure is capitalized only when it increases the future economic benefits embodied in the specific asset to which it relates. All other expenditure is recognized in profit or loss as incurred.

Amortisation is calculated to write off the cost of intangible assets using the straight-line method over their estimated useful lives, and is generally recognized in profit or loss. The estimated useful life of software is 5 years.

q. Non-derivative financial instruments

i. Non-derivative financial assets and financial liabilities - Recognition and derecognition

The Company initially recognizes loans and receivables, deposits and debt securities issued on the date when they are originated. All other financial assets and financial liabilities are initially recognized on the trade date when the entity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

4. Non-derivative financial instruments (continued)

The Company derecognizes a financial asset when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the asset expire, or it transfers the rights to receive the contractual cash flows in a transaction in which substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership of the financial asset are transferred, or it neither transfers nor retains substantially all of the risks and rewards of ownership and does not retain control over the transferred asset. Any interest in such derecognized financial assets that is created or retained by the Company is recognized as a separate asset or liability.

The Company derecognizes a financial liability when its contractual obligations are discharged or cancelled or expire.

Financial assets and liabilities are offset and the net amount presented in the statement of financial position when, and only when, the Company has a legal right to offset the amounts and intends either to settle on a net basis or to realize the asset and settle the liability simultaneously.

ii. Non-derivative financial assets - Measurement

Financial assets at amortised cost

These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses. Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gain or loss on derecognition is recognized in profit or loss.

Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognized in profit or loss.

iii. Non-derivative financial liabilities

Non-derivative financial liabilities are initially measured at fair value less any directly attributable transaction costs. Subsequent to initial recognition, these liabilities are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method.

r. Share capital

Ordinary shares are classified as equity. Incremental costs directly attributable to the issue of ordinary shares recognized as a deduction from equity.

s. Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents includes cash in hand, deposits held at call with banks, other short term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

i. Provisions

A provision is recognized if, as a result of a past event, the Company has a present legal or constructive obligation that can be estimated reliably, and it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will be required to settle the obligation. Provisions are determined by discounting the expected future cash flows at a pre-tax rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the liability. The unwinding of the discount is recognized as a finance cost.

ii. Leases

i) Determining whether an arrangement contains a lease

At inception of an arrangement, the Company determines whether such an arrangement is or contains a lease. A specific asset is the subject of a lease if fulfilment of the arrangement is dependent on the use of that specified asset. An arrangement conveys the right to use the asset if the arrangement conveys to the Company the right to control the use of the underlying asset.

At inception or on reassessment of the arrangement, the Company separates payments and other consideration required by such an arrangement into those for the lease and those for other elements on the basis of their relative fair values. If the Company concludes for a finance lease that it is impracticable to separate the payments reliably, an asset and a liability are recognized at an amount equal to the fair value of the underlying asset. Subsequently the liability is reduced as payments are made and an imputed finance charge on the liability is recognized using the Company's incremental borrowing rate.

ii) Leased assets

Leases of property, plant and equipment that transfer to the Company substantially all of the risk and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. The leased assets are measured initially at an amount equal to the lower of their fair value and the present value of the minimum lease payments. Subsequent to initial recognition, the assets are accounted for in accordance with the accounting policy applicable to that asset.

Assets held under other leases are classified as operating leases and are not recognized in the Company's statement of financial position.

iii) Lease payments

Payments made under operating leases are recognized in profit or loss on a straight-line basis over the term of the lease. Lease incentives received are recognized as an integral part of the total lease expense, over the term of the lease.

5. CHANGES IN SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

ii. IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers

The Company adopted IFRS 15: Revenue from Contracts with Customers effective from January 1, 2018.

IFRS 15 establishes a comprehensive framework for determining whether, how much and when revenue is recognized. It replaced IAS 18 Revenue, IAS 11 Construction Contracts and related interpretations. The Company recognizes revenue when a customer obtains controls of the goods at a point in time i.e. on delivery and acknowledgment of goods, which is in line with the requirements of IFRS 15.

The Company recognizes revenue from contracts with customers based on a five-step model as set out in IFRS 15 and is given below:

Step 1 – Identify the contract(s) with a customer: A contract is defined as an agreement between two or more parties that creates enforceable rights and obligations and sets out the criteria for every contract that must be met;

Step 2 – Identify the performance obligations in the contract: A performance obligation is a promise in a contract with a customer to transfer a good or service to the customer;

Step 3 – Determine the transaction price: The transaction price is the amount of consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for transferring promised goods or services to a customer, excluding amounts collected on behalf of third parties;

Step 4 – Allocate the transaction price to the performance obligations in the contract: For a contract that has more than one performance obligation, the Company allocates the transaction price to each performance obligation in an amount that depicts the amount of consideration to which the Company expects to be entitled in exchange for satisfying each performance obligation.

Step 5 – Recognize revenue when (or as) the entity satisfies a performance obligation.

The Company satisfies a performance obligation and recognizes revenue over time, if one of the following criteria is met:

- The Company's performance does not create an asset with an alternate use to the Company and the Company has an enforceable right to payment for performance completed to date;
- The Company's performance creates or enhances an asset that the customer controls as the asset is created or enhanced;
- The customer simultaneously receives and consumes the benefits provided by the Company's performance as the Company performs.

For performance obligations where none of the above conditions are met, revenue is recognized at the point in time at which the performance obligation is satisfied.

a. IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers (continued)

There was no material effect of adopting 'IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers' except for the recognition of Airline Equipment revenue. Previously the Company accounted for the airline equipment revenue on the gross basis, however according to the IFRS 15, the entity should control the specified goods or services to be accounting as gross basis and act as a principal. The Company is acting on behalf of purchaser by procuring equipment based on the their yearly approved equipment forecast and in return, receives a fixed commission over and above of the costs incurred. The Company does not control the goods before it is transferred to purchaser, and the obligation of the Company is to arrange for another party to provide the goods, therefore, the Company is acting as agent and should recognize revenue on a net basis. The Company has adopted IFRS 15 using the retrospective effect method and has presented the impact on its profit and loss for the year ended December 31, 2017 and 2018 as follows:

Year ended December 31, 2018	As per IFRS 15	As per old policy	Impact of adoption of IFRS 15
Revenue	2,035,757,930	2,266,674,821	(230,916,891)

The details of the new significant accounting policies and the nature of the changes to previous accounting policies in relation to the Company's revenue segments are set out below.

Type of Product	Nature, timing of satisfaction on performance obligations, significant payment terms	Nature of change in accounting policy
Inflight Catering, Remote & Camp management, Business & Industries catering, Laundry Services and Hajj & Umrah	Revenue from catering and other services is recognized when the services are rendered to the customer. Invoices are generated and revenue is recognized at that point in time. Invoices are generated and recognized as revenue, net of applicable discounts which relate to the items sold. No customer loyalty points are offered to customers and therefore there is no deferred revenue to be recognized for the items sold. For contracts that permit the customer to return an item, under IFRS 15 revenue is recognized to the extent that it is probable that a significant reversal in the amount of cumulative revenue recognized will not occur. Therefore, the amount of revenue recognized is adjusted for actual returns. The revenue is recognized at the point of time.	There is no impact from adopting IFRS 15. Revenue from catering and other services is recognized when the services are rendered to the customer. There are no returns for these services.
Airline Equipment	The Company is acting as an agent on behalf of the customer by procuring equipment and receives a commission over and above the costs incurred. The Company does not control the goods before it is transferred to the customer and the revenue is recognized at a point of time when the equipment is received from the supplier.	Income is recognized when the control over the equipment is transferred to the customer on a net basis, representing the commission.

Type of Product	Nature, timing of satisfaction on performance obligations, significant payment terms	Nature of change in accounting policy
Business Lounges	The Company recognizes revenue when passengers access the business lounges at a point of time at fixed rates based on contracts with airline companies.	There is no impact from adoption of IFRS 15.
Onboard & Ground Retail	This revenue stream represents normal retail trade of skysales. The obligation is satisfied when the goods are purchased at a point of time.	There is no impact from adoption of IFRS 15. Revenue from the sale of goods is recognized when the Company satisfies the performance obligation by transferring the promised goods (asset) to the customer. An asset is transferred when the customer obtains control of that asset.

b. IFRS 9 Financial Instruments

The Company adopted IFRS 9 effective from January 1, 2018.

IFRS 9 sets out requirements for recognizing and measuring financial assets, financial liabilities and some contracts to buy or sell non-financial items. This standard replaces IAS 39 Financial Instruments Recognition and Measurement.

The details of new significant accounting policies and the nature and effect of the changes to previous accounting policies are set out below.

i. Classification and measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities

IFRS 9 largely retains the existing requirements in IAS 39 for the classification and measurement of financial liabilities. However, it eliminates the previous IAS 39 categories for financial assets held to maturity, loans and receivables and available for sale.

The adoption of IFRS 9 has not had a significant effect on the accounting policies related to financial liabilities and derivatives financial instruments. The impact of IFRS 9 on the classification and measurement of financial assets is set out below.

Under IFRS 9, on the initial recognition, a financial asset is classified as measured at amortised cost; FVOCI-debt investment; FVOCI-equity investment; or FVTPL. The classification of financial assets under IFRS 9 is generally based on the business model in which a financial asset is managed and its contractual cash flow characteristics. Derivatives embedded in contracts where the host is a financial asset in the scope of the standard are never separated. Instead, the hybrid financial instrument as a whole is assessed for classification.

(Expressed in Saudi Arabian Riyals)

b. IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (continued)

i. Classification and measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities (continued)

A financial asset is measured at amortised cost if it meets both of the conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL;

- it is held within a business model whose objective is to hold assets to collect contractual cash flows; and
- its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

A debt investment is measured at FVOCI if it meets both the following conditions and is not designated as at FVTPL;

- it is held within a business model whose objective is achieved by both collecting contractual cash flows and selling financial assets; and
- its contractual terms give rise on specified dates to cash flows that are solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding.

On the initial recognition of an equity investment that is not held for trading, the Company may irrevocably elect to present subsequent changes in the investment's fair value in OCI. This election is made on an investment-by-investment basis.

All financial assets not classified as measured at amortised cost or FVOCI as described above are measured at FVTPL. This includes all derivative financial assets. On initial recognition, the Company may irrevocably designate a financial asset that otherwise meets the requirements to be measured at amortised cost or at FVOCI as at FVTPL if doing so eliminates or significantly reduces an accounting mismatch that would otherwise arise.

A financial asset (unless it is a trade receivable without a significant financing component that is initially measured at the transaction price) is initially measured at fair value plus, for an item not at FVTPL, transaction costs that are directly attributable to its acquisition.

b. IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (continued)

i. Classification and measurement of financial assets and financial liabilities (continued)

The following accounting policies apply to the subsequent measurement of financial assets.

Financial assets at FVTPL	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Net gains and losses, including any interest or dividend income, are recognized in profit or loss.
Financial assets at amortised cost	These assets are subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method. The amortised cost is reduced by impairment losses (see (ii) below). Interest income, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Any gains or loss on derecognition is recognized in profit or loss.
Debt investments at FVOCI	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Interest income calculated using the effective interest method, foreign exchange gains and losses and impairment are recognized in profit or loss. Other net gains and losses are recognized in OCI. On derecognition, gains and losses accumulated in OCI are reclassified to profit or loss.
Equity investments at FVOCI	These assets are subsequently measured at fair value. Dividends are recognized as income in profit or loss the dividend clearly represents a recovery of part of the cost of the investment. Other net gains and losses are recognized in OCI and are never reclassified to profit or loss.

The effect of adopting IFRS 9 on the carrying amounts in financial assets at 1 January 2018 relates solely to the new impairment requirements, as described further below.

The following table and the accompanying notes below explain the original measurement categories under IAS 39 and the new measurement categories under IFRS 9 for the class of the Company's financial assets as at January 1, 2018.

	Original Classification under IAS 39	New Classification under IFRS 9	Original carrying amount under IAS 39	New carrying amount under IFRS 9

b. IFRS 9 Financial Instruments (continued)

ii) Impairment of financial assets

IFRS 9 replaces the 'incurred loss' model in IAS 39 with an 'expected credit loss' (ECL) model. The new impairment model applies to financial assets measured at amortised cost, contract assets and debt investments at FVOCI, but not to investment in equity instruments. Under IFRS9, credit losses are recognized earlier than IAS 39.

Under IFRS 9, loss allowances are measured on either of the following bases:

- 12-month ECLs: these are ECLs that result from possible default events within the 12 months after the reporting date; and
- lifetime ECLs: these are ECLs that result from all possible default events over the expected life of a financial instrument.

The Company measures loss allowances at an amount equal to lifetime ECLs.

When determining whether the credit risk of a financial asset has increased significantly since initial recognition and when estimating ECLs, the Company considers reasonable and supportable information that is relevant and available without undue cost or effort.

This includes both quantitative and qualitative information and analysis, based on the Company's historical experience and informed credit assessment and including forward-looking information.

Furthermore, the majority of the trade receivables are due from the major shareholder in the Company and government and semi-government entities. As a result, the Company has reversed an impairment of trade receivables amounting to SR 12.8 million. The Company adopted IFRS 9 prospectively, therefore the Company have not restated the comparative figures.

Measurement of ECLs

ECLs are a probability-weighted estimate of credit losses. Credit losses are measured as the present value of all cash shortfalls (i.e. the difference between the cash flows due to the entity in accordance with the contract and the cash flows that the Company expects to receive). ECLs are discounted at the effective interest rate of the financial asset

Credit-impaired financial assets

At each reporting date, the Company assesses whether financial assets carried at amortised cost are credit-impaired. A financial asset is 'credit-impaired' when one or more events that have a detrimental impact on the estimated future cash flows of the financial asset have occurred.

iii) Transition

The Company has taken an exemption not to restate comparative information for prior periods with respect to classification and measurement (including impairment) requirements. Differences in the carrying amounts of financial assets and financial liabilities resulting from the adoption of IFRS 9 are not recognized in retained earnings as at 1 January 2018. Accordingly, the information presented for 2017 does not generally reflect the requirements of IFRS 9 but rather those of IAS 39.

iii) Transition (continued)

The following assessments have been made on the basis of the facts and circumstances that existed at the date of initial application.

- The determination of the business model within which a financial asset is held.
- The designation and revocation of previous designations of certain financial assets.
- The designation of certain investments in equity instruments not held for trading as at FVOCI.

c. New standards

Standards issued but not yet effective up to the date of issuance of the Company's financial statements are listed below.

Effective for annual periods beginning on or after	Standard, amendment or interpretation	Summary of requirements
Annual reporting periods beginning on or after January 1, 2019, early adoption is permitted	IFRS 16 Leases	IFRS 16 changes fundamentally the accounting for leases by lessees. It eliminates the current IAS 17 dual accounting model, which distinguishes between on-balance sheet finance leases and off-balance sheet operating leases and, instead, introduces a single, on-balance sheet accounting model that is similar to current finance lease accounting. Lessor accounting remains similar to current practice – i.e. lessors continue to classify leases as finance and operating leases. Sale-and-leaseback is effectively eliminated as an off-balance sheet financing structure.
1 January 2019	(2015-2017 annual improvements cycle) IFRS 3, IAS 12 and IAS 23	The standards affected under the 2015-2017 annual improvements cycle, and the subjects of the amendments are: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - IFRS 3 business combinations and IFRS 11 Joint arrangements - previously held interest in a joint operation. - IAS 12 Income Taxes - income tax consequences of payments on financial instruments classified as equity. - IAS 23 Borrowing Costs - borrowing costs eligible for capitalisation.
1 January 2019	Amendments to IAS 28	The amendments clarify that the Company applies IFRS 9 Financial Instruments to long-term interests in an associate or joint venture to which the equity method is not applied but that, in substance, form part of the net investment in the associate or joint venture (long-term interests). This clarification is relevant because it implies that the expected credit loss model in IFRS 9 applies to such long-term interests.

c. New standards (continued)

Effective for annual periods beginning on or after	Standard, amendment or interpretation	Summary of requirements
1 January 2019	Amendments to IFRS 9	Under IFRS 9, a debt instrument can be measured at amortised cost or at fair value through other comprehensive income, provided that the contractual cash flows are 'solely payments of principal and interest on the principal amount outstanding' (the SPPI criterion) and the instrument is held within the appropriate business model for that classification. The amendments to IFRS 9 clarify that a financial asset passes the SPPI criterion regardless of the event or circumstance that causes the early termination of the contract and irrespective of which party pays or receives reasonable compensation for the early termination of the contract.

d. Impairment

i) Non-financial assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any indication exists, or when annual impairment testing for an asset is required, the Company estimates the asset's recoverable amount. An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's or cash-generating unit's (CGU) fair value less costs to sell and its value in use and is determined for an individual asset, unless the asset does not generate cash inflows that are largely independent of those from other assets or Company's assets. Where the carrying amount of an asset or CGU exceeds its recoverable amount, the asset is considered impaired and is written down to its recoverable amount.

In assessing value in use, the estimated future cash flows are discounted to their present value using a pre-tax discount rate that reflects current market assessments of the time value of money and the risks specific to the asset. In determining fair value less costs to sell, recent market transactions are taken into account, if available. If no such transactions can be identified, an appropriate valuation model is used. These calculations are corroborated by valuation multiples, quoted share prices for publicly traded subsidiaries or other available fair value indicators.

For assets excluding goodwill, an assessment is made at each reporting date to determine whether there is an indication that previously recognized impairment losses no longer exist or have decreased. If such indication exists, the Company estimates the asset's or CGU's recoverable amount. A previously recognized impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the assumptions used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognized. The reversal is limited so that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its recoverable amount, nor exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation or amortisation, had no impairment loss been recognized for the asset in prior years. Such reversal is recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

Intangible assets with indefinite useful lives are tested for impairment annually and when circumstances indicate that the carrying value may be impaired.

(Expressed in Saudi Arabian Riyals)

The Company has a call option by which it has the right to purchase 11% of the total shares of the associate from one of the shareholders subject to fulfilling legal requirements and obtaining certain approvals. If the Company succeeded to fulfill all the requirements and purchased the 11% shares, its shares in the investee will reach 51% and accordingly will have control over the investee and will then start consolidating.

At the date of the financial statements, the Company was unable to practice the call option due to legal formalities and accordingly was unable to obtain control and management continued to account for this investment as an associate.

iii) Impairment test of associate

The recoverable amount of this equity accounted investee is estimated using discounted cash flows. The fair value measurement was categorized as a level 3 fair value based on the inputs in the valuation technique used.

The key assumptions used in the estimation of the recoverable amount are set out below. The values assigned to the key assumptions represent management's assessment of future trends in the relevant industries and have been based on historical data from both external and internal sources.

	2018	2017
Discount rate	7%	7%
Terminal value growth rate	0%	0%
Budgeted EBITDA growth rate (average of next five years)	(2%)	(2%)

Management of the Company has assessed in detail the carrying value of Saudi French Company for Duty Free Operations and Management as at December 31 on the basis of above assumptions and concluded that there is no impairment in the associate that needs to be recognized.

19. EMPLOYEES' BENEFITS (continued)

ii) Actuarial assumptions

The following were the principal actuarial assumptions at the reporting date (expressed as weighted averages).

	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Discount rate	4.30%	3.50%
Future salary growth	4.30%	2.25%
Voluntary turnover rate	6.6%	11% to 18%
In -voluntary turnover rate	10.45%	3%
Retirement age	60 years	60 years

iii) Sensitivity analysis

Reasonably possible changes at the reporting date to one of the relevant actuarial assumptions, holding other assumptions constant, would have affected the defined benefit obligation by the amounts shown below.

	December 31, 2018		December 31, 2017
	Increase	Decrease	Increase	Decrease
Discount rate (0.5% movement)	161,034,306	(169,222,795)	164,574,500	(173,688,500)
Future salary growth (0.5% movement)	169,607,321	(160,629,165)	173,714,400	(164,509,000)

Although the analysis does not take account of the full distribution of cash flows expected under the plan, it does provide an approximation of the sensitivity of the assumptions shown.

B. Accrued bonus - long term

The movement in accrued bonus-long term during the year was as follows:

	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Balance at January 1	--	7,616,142

31. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS - FAIR VALUES AND RISK MANAGEMENT

A. Measurement of fair values

Except for the investment property, the fair values of the Company's financial assets and liabilities approximate their carrying amounts.

B. Financial risk management

The Company's activities expose it to a variety of financial risks: market risk (cash flow and interest rate risk), credit risk and liquidity risk.

The Company's overall risk management program focuses on robust liquidity management as well as monitoring of various relevant market variables, thereby consistently seeking to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance.

Risk management framework

The Board of Directors has put in place appropriate structures to ensure risk governance and monitoring across the Company. The Company's overall financial risk management focuses on the unpredictability of financial markets and the clients' payment behavior and seeks to minimize potential adverse effects on the Company's financial performance.

The principles of overall financial risk management, as well as policies covering specific areas such as credit risk and the investment of excess liquidity exist and are formally documented.

Cash flow and interest rate risk

As the Company has no significant interest-bearing assets, the Company's income and associated operating cash inflows are substantially independent of changes in market interest rates. The Company has no interest-bearing liabilities.

Credit risk

Credit risk reflects the risk that a counterparty will default on its contractual obligations, resulting in financial loss to the Company. The credit risk arising from cash and cash equivalents and deposits with banks and financial institutions are limited because the counterparties are banks and financial institutions which, in general, have an investment grade rating assigned by international credit rating agencies.

The Company's gross maximum exposure to credit risk at the reporting date is as follows:

	December 31, 2018	December 31, 2017
Financial assets
Other financial asset	29,991,692	73,620,570
Trade receivables	223,888,554	145,365,633

31. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS – FAIR VALUES AND RISK MANAGEMENT (continued)

Credit risk on receivable and bank balances is limited as:

- Cash balances are held with banks with sound credit ratings ranging from A3 to A1 based on Moody's credit rating and BBB+ based on Fitch credit rating. All bank accounts are held with banks within Saudi Arabia and Cairo.
- The Company currently does not obtain security / collaterals from its customers.
- Financial position of related parties is stable.

Concentration Risk

As at December 31, 2018, 5 largest customers (December 31, 2017: 5 largest customers) account for approximately 75% (31 December 2017: 78%) of gross outstanding trade receivables.

Liquidity risk

Prudent liquidity risk management includes maintaining sufficient cash and the availability of funding from an adequate amount of committed credit facilities. The Company maintain flexibility in funding by maintaining sufficient availability of cash and cash equivalent instruments. The Company don't have any credit facilities in place and monitor risk to a shortage of funds by reviewing short-term cash forecasts on a continuous basis and by undertaking mid-term cash forecasts during the year.

Fair value of assets and liabilities

The following table shows the carrying amount of the financial assets and financial liabilities at December 31, 2017 and 2018. The Company does not have any assets measured at FVTPL or FVOCI at December 31, 2017 and 2018.
